

Have a wonderful Easter break.

Tiggywinkles

This week the Tiggywinkles have been exploring Easter and baby animals, they have enjoyed making Easter chicks, colouring Easter pictures, and exploring easter headbands.

The children have also been learning all about baby animals and who's baby is who's through the adapted version of sleeping bunnies and Old Mc Donald had a farm. They have also been enjoying listening to nature and watching the clouds in the garden, thinking about how they are moving, what happens when the sun 'goes in' and what sounds they can hear, such as the children on the main playground, cars and of course helicopters. They finished their week with an Easter egg hunt.

Nutkins

The Nutkin's this week, have explored all things Spring and have enjoyed a planting small world tray with soil, pots and tools, as well as chicks and eggs.

They have made Easter eggs using tissue paper, butterfly prints and enjoyed colouring Easter pictures.

And they have also continued with their communication skill building through continued traditional games such as 'What's the time Mr Wolf' and making obstacle courses in the garden and inside.

Puddleducks

The Puddleducks are enjoying spring and Easter crafts this week. They have been making Easter cards, Easter egg sun catchers and continuing their colour work by using paint dabbers to make colourful Easter egg patterns. They have enjoyed exploring a farm small world set up, looking at baby animals and vegetables and crops. And they are continuing their big and small topic by using

New toileting support

ERIC aims to help get as many children trained and ready for school as possible by offering support via email, their website and helpline. They want to help as many families as possible.

Parents and carers will be able to sign up via this page to receive a weekly email from ERIC packed with helpful advice and information. The journey lasts 6 weeks, after which you'll be added to their mailing list and will continue to receive helpful advice from ERIC going forward. Everyone receives the same information, but you'll be signposted to the online helpline form if you need any personalised support.
